SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

Changes Implementing Nucleotide and/or Amino Acid Sequence Listings

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Notice of Proposed Rulemaking and Request for Comments.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is proposing to amend the rules for submitting nucleic acid or amino acid sequences in computer readable form (CRF) for patent applications to simplify the requirements of the rules, to rearrange portions of the rules for better understanding and to establish consistent rules to permit a single internationally acceptable computer readable form. The Sequence Listing will be presented in an international, language neutral format using numeric identifiers rather than the current subject headings and the paper Sequence Listing will be a separately numbered section of the patent application. Sequences which contain fewer than four (4) specifically identified nucleotides or amino acids will no longer be required to be submitted in computer readable form.
Date: Written comments must be received by December 3, 1996.
Addresses: Address written comments to: Box Comments - Patents, Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Washington, DC 20231, Attention: Esther M. Kepplinger or by Fax to (703) 305-3601 to her attention. Comments may be sent by mail message over the Internet addressed to seqrule@uspto.gov. The written comments will be available for public inspection in Suite 520, Crystal Park One, 2011 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia.
For Further Information Contact: Esther M. Kepplinger, by telephone at (703) 308-2339 or by mail addressed to: Box Comments - Patents, Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Washington, DC 20231 marked to her attention or by Fax to (703) 305-3601 or by electronic mail at ekepplin@uspto.gov.
Supplemental Information: The existing sequence rules (37 CFR 1.821-1.825) provide a standardized format for the description of nucleotide and amino acid sequence data in patent applications and require the submission of such sequences in computer readable form (CRF). The existing sequence rules have provided the following benefits to the PTO: (1) improved search capabilities; (2) improved interference detection; (3) more efficient examination; (4) cost savings for the input of the sequence data; (5) more efficient and accurate printing of sequences in patents; (6) exchange of the sequence data with other patent offices electronically and (7) improved public access to the sequences electronically.

In an effort to streamline and reduce the procedural requirements of the existing rules and to respond to the needs of our customers while establishing an internationally acceptable standard, the PTO proposes to modify the current rules requiring the submission of computer readable forms for nucleotide and amino acid sequences.

To decrease the burden on applicants who file applications containing nucleotide and amino acid sequence information under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT), the PTO entered into discussions at the PCT Meeting of International Authorities (MIA) in November 1994 on changing the applicable rules for submission and transfer of Sequence Listings. Under the current PCT rules, each International Searching Authority and national Office may set the standard for submission of the paper and electronic Sequence Listing information. This may impose a burden on applicants of providing several different formats of Sequence Listings in different languages during the international and national phases of the PCT procedure.

Under the current PCT practice, the applicant serves as the data repository for requests during each stage of the PCT practice for new electronic copies of the Sequence Listings.

Under national practice, a Sequence Listing may be required to be translated into the national language at considerable cost and posing the danger that the data could be inadvertently altered.

At the November 1994 MIA to address these problems, rule changes were proposed to require a language neutral Sequence Listing submission which would suffice for PCT and national stage sequence information processing. Initial Trilateral meetings and correspondence suggest that such a sequence submission would be acceptable under European Patent Office (EPO) and Japanese Patent Office (JPO) procedures, thus further lessening the burden on applicants.

These sequence rules are proposed to be revised in concert with World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) International Standards ST.23 and ST.24 for the paper and electronic submission of sequence information in patent applications, as well as PCT requirements. This should result in an applicant having to produce a single Sequence Listing that would satisfy the filing requirements in all countries, as well as permitting an applicant to submit only a single electronic Sequence Listing in PCT applications.

In an effort to profit from the experiences of the nucleotide database information providers which pioneered the electronic submission of sequence information, the PTO discussed with them the possible simplification of the PTO sequence submission rules. In response to their advice (which confirmed the PTO experience), the number of mandatory data elements is proposed to be reduced.

Thus, the proposed rule changes include:

(1) use of numeric identifiers to replace the language subject headings within the submission;

(2) elimination of unnecessary and confusing data elements;

(3) movement of the paper Sequence Listing to the end of the application as a section with separately numbered pages;

(4) modification of 37 CFR § 1.77 to include the paper Sequence Listing as a part of the specification and to provide a place for the paper Sequence Listing in the printed patent;

(5) elimination of the requirement to provide a submission for sequences with fewer than four specifically defined nucleotides or amino acids;

(6) use of lower-case one-letter codes for nucleotide bases;

(7) rearrangement of portions of the rules to improve their context; and

(8) clarification and simplification of the rules to aid in understanding of the requirements that they set forth.

Request For Comments:

The PTO is particularly interested in receiving comments on three queries. Currently sequences containing D-amino acids need not be provided in the "Sequence Listing", but the PTO has accepted voluntary submissions of sequences containing D-amino acids.

The commercially available sequence searching software used to search prior art databases is not capable of discerning D-amino acids since they do not have distinct designators. It is for this reason that the rules do not require a computer readable form for the disclosure of sequences which contain D-amino acids.

Those seeking to volunteer the information in accordance with these rules might be seeking assurance that a machine search of the closest prior art will be conducted by the PTO or they consider the information useful and wish it to be in the database. If the PTO does not accept voluntary submissions, that would exclude information from the databases that at least some applicants believe to be valuable information.

The potential conflict created by accepting these D-amino acid-containing sequences is that the published database will contain sequences with D-amino acids and those using the published database may be operating on the assumption that it does not, given the indication in § 1.821(a)(2) that D-amino acid-containing sequences are not intended to be included. For this reason, there may be an advantage to having the D-amino acids indicated by Xaa to alert the user that the Feature section must be consulted. A disadvantage of voluntary submissions is that they will result in the generation of a database which is incomplete and cannot be relied upon to provide a complete search of the U.S. patent literature including sequences containing D-amino acids.

The PTO seeks comments on the following query:

(1) Should the PTO accept voluntary submissions of computer readable forms and Sequence Listings where a D-amino acid is contained in the sequence? If such voluntary submissions are accepted, should there be a restriction on the choice of identifying a D-amino acid by an Xaa or by its L-amino acid counterpart abbreviation?

Section 1.821(c) will continue to require that all sequence information contained in a disclosure, including in the specification, drawings or claims, be presented in the Sequence Listing in accordance with §§ 1.821 - 1.825. This provision does not discriminate between prior art sequences and "new" sequences. The PTO has received comments in the past and is seeking additional comments on this issue. The suggestion has been made that sequences which are prior art, and/or are contained in a database at the time of filing, need not be provided to the PTO in computer readable form since the sequence information is obtainable by other means. Responsive to these public comments, the PTO is considering amending the rules to permit omission of some sequences from the Sequence Listing if these sequences are admitted prior art to applicant and are in a publicly available, electronic, sequence database and the database accession number is supplied.

The suggestion to exclude prior art sequences was made when §§ 1.821 - 1.825 were originally adopted. 55 FR 18230, 18237 (1990). The final rules, however, required the submission of all sequence information in computer readable form. The reasons for that decision include: 1) the assessment of whether a particular sequence falls within the requirements of the current rules is simple; 2) the general public is assured that all patents which contain any sequence information contain all of the sequence information in the Sequence Listing and all sequences are available in a computer accessible form; 3) as a publication, the contextual association of new and old information is potentially unique to the patent and very valuable to anyone assessing the state of the art at the time of a patented invention, and thus are desirable to be present in electronic form in association with that patent; and 4) these rules do not require any information to be disclosed in the form of a sequence, but rather require a particular format whenever information is presented in the form of a sequence. These reasons continue to be relevant.

The PTO is concerned about how such a provision would be drafted without creating difficult questions. A provision which excludes sequences whenever a sequence is prior art and has previously been included in a publicly available, electronic, sequence database appears to be straightforward; however, many technical and legal issues would result. What constitutes a publicly available, electronic, sequence database? Would the USPTO and the other patent offices which have similar rules be required to produce a list of internationally accepted databases? What would be the criteria for such acceptance? An additional issue would exist involving electronic records maintenance: is there any assurance that once information is contained in a database that it will be retained and available indefinitely without alteration? Changes to the information in nucleic acid sequence databases resulting from the discovery of sequencing errors are well-known. Does the mere existence of the sequence information in such a record constitute reasonable means of retrieval? Would not one need some text basis or other identifier to retrieve the information?

Concerns have been voiced that the redundancy of including old sequences in the PTO database creates electronic searching problems, such as increased cost and reduced speed. Upon investigation, it has been found that requiring all disclosed sequences to be included in the Sequence Listing does not cause search processing problems at the PTO or incur increased costs.

The PTO seeks comments on the following query:

(2) Should the provisions of 37 CFR 1.821(c) be altered to exclude some prior art sequences from inclusion in the Sequence Listing even though they are presented in a patent application disclosure as sequences? Should the reference to an accession number of an admitted prior art sequence in a publicly available, electronic, sequence database suffice and exclude that sequence from the requirements of the sequence rules?

At the November 1994 MIA, it was proposed that the Sequence Listings submitted in an international application filed under the PCT would no longer be published on paper. It was suggested that the Sequence Listings be published electronically and be available in the electronic form from several sequence repositories throughout the world. These repositories would have the Sequence Listings available in electronic form at the time of publication of the PCT pamphlet.

The PTO seeks comments on the following query:

(3) Should Sequence Listings filed in an international application filed under the PCT be published only electronically and made available for retrieval electronically by an accession number from several sequence repositories?

Written comments will be available for public inspection and will be available on the Internet (address: www.uspto.gov). Commentators should note that since their comments will be made publicly available, information that is not desired to be made public, such as the address and phone number of the commentator, should not be included in the comments. A public hearing will not be conducted.

Discussion of Specific Rules

Section 1.77 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraph (g), which would provide for a reference to a Sequence Listing Annex, if any exists. In the application as filed, on a separate page immediately before the claims, reference would be made to a Sequence Listing Annex and the Sequence Listing would be provided as a separately numbered section or Annex to the application. In a printed patent the Sequence Listing would appear immediately before the claims.

Section 1.77 is proposed to be amended to redesignate existing paragraphs (g) - (j) as paragraphs (h) - (k) and add an additional paragraph (l) Sequence Listing Annex. In the application as filed, the Sequence Listing would be provided by applicants as a separately numbered section or Annex of the application. The pages of the Sequence Listing Annex should be numbered independently from the specification using sequential integers preceded by "A" to identify them as a part of the Annex and to prevent any confusion which might arise from using numbers already used in the specification. In a printed patent the Sequence Listing would be printed immediately before the claims. In cases where the Sequence Listing is voluminous, the files are difficult to handle. This change would permit easier storage of very large Sequence Listings apart from the main part of the application during pendency. The presentation of the Sequence Listing as a separate Annex would also facilitate compliance with PCT requirements and other national patent office rules.

Sections 1.821(a)(1) and (2) are proposed to be amended by referring to sections in World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) Handbook on Industrial Property Information and Documentation, Standard ST.23, paragraphs 8 through 12, April 1994, herein incorporated by reference, rather than to paragraphs in § 1.822. The WIPO Standard ST. 23 (April 1994) is consistent with § 1.822 except for certain corrections which are noted herein and the requirement of the use of the lower case for the one-letter code for nucleotide bases. The proposed rule states that the incorporation has been approved. This language is required by the Federal Register. This incorporation by reference will be reviewed by the Director of the Federal Register in accordance with 5 U.S.C. 552(a) and 1 CFR part 51 before any Final Rule is adopted. Copies may be obtained from the World Intellectual Property Organization; 34 chemin des Colombettes; 1211 Geneva 20 Switzerland. Copies may be inspected at the Patent Search Room; Crystal Plaza 3, Lobby Level; 2021 South Clark Place; Arlington, VA 22202; or at the Office of the Federal Register, 800 North Capitol Street, NW, Suite 700, Washington, DC 20408.

Section 1.821(a) is proposed to be amended so that sequences with fewer than four specifically defined amino acids or nucleotides would be expresaly excluded from this rule. "Specifically defined" means those amino acids other than "Xaa" and those nucleotide bases other than "N" defined in accordance with WIPO Standard ST.23.

This change is being proposed to reduce the burden on applicants for those sequences that contain only a minimal amount of sequence information. For example, if an amino acid sequence is disclosed as being entirely "Xaa" residues, the 1990 version of the sequence rules would require this sequence to be submitted in computer readable form. However, this sequence has no value as sequence information because each of the positions is represented as a "wild card." Such low-information sequences are not very useful in any sequence matching and alignment algorithm. In order to minimize the inclusion of such low-information-value sequence data in the database and to relieve the burden on applicants to submit low-information-value sequences, the Office proposes this change to the sequence rules. If applicants should wish to voluntarily submit a CRF for such sequences, they would be accepted and entered in the PTO's database.

It is not necessary that any of the non-N or non-Xaa residues be adjacent to any other non-N or non-Xaa residue in order for a sequence to be subject to § 1.821(a).

Sections 1.821(a)(2) and 1.822(b) are proposed to be amended by changing "elsewhere in the 'Sequence Listing'" to "in the Feature section." The purpose of this change is to enhance clarity of the rule. The only place in the "Sequence Listing" where additional information is permitted is in the Feature section. The current language implies that there are other acceptable portions of the "Sequence Listing" appropriate for additional information and thus is ambiguous and misleading.

Section 1.821(a)(2) will continue to indicate that sequences containing D-amino acids need not comply with the provisions of §§ 1.822 - 1.825. To date, the PTO has accepted voluntary submissions of sequences which contain D-amino acids. The sequence information has either indicated an Xaa at each occurrence of a D-amino acid or has indicated the amino acid (or imino acid) by abbreviation as if it were an L-amino acid (or imino acid) and explained the existence of the D-amino acid in the Feature section associated with that sequence.

Section 1.821(c) is proposed to be amended by clarifying and establishing a language neutral format sequence listing. Specifically, the use of integer identifiers is proposed for identifying sequences. Where a sequence integer identifier is intentionally omitted, it must be noted by applicant to avoid confusion in the published document.

Section 1.821(d) is proposed to be amended by changing "assigned identifier" to "integer identifier" to be consistent with the term used in § 1.821(c).

Section 1.821(d) is proposed to be amended by adding the phrase, "preceded by 'SEQ ID NO:' ". This change is necessitated by the change to § 1.821(c). Since the integer identifier in the "Sequence Listing" would be defined now as a numeral only, it is necessary that any reference to a particular sequence in the specification and claims be preceded by "SEQ ID NO:". It is not acceptable to use only a numeric identifier, such as "◀200▶" or "◀400▶"- see infra Sequence Listing table, in the description or the claims because one reading a patent may not reasonably be presumed to be familiar with the meanings of numeric identifiers.

Section 1.821(e) is proposed to be amended by setting forth the procedure for transferring an accepted computer readable Sequence Listing from one application to a subsequently filed application. The existing rules did not adequately describe the process of transferring a computer readable Sequence Listing into a new application if an identical CRF was previously accepted by the PTO for another application. A further description of the intended procedures has been added for purposes of clarity. This section is intended to describe that if a computer readable Sequence Listing is identical to one that is error-free and already on file at the PTO, an applicant has two options. A new diskette may be submitted, or an applicant may submit a statement clearly directing the PTO to use the previously submitted CRF since they are identical, and that the paper copy of the Sequence Listing in the new application is identical to the disk in the previous application.

Section 1.821(g) is proposed to be amended by correcting the reference to 35 U.S.C. 111(a) applications. Section 1.821(h) is proposed to be amended by clarifying that this rule applies to all international applications searched and examined by the PTO. In addition to international applications filed in the United States Receiving Office, the United States is a competent International Searching Authority (ISA) for applications filed in receiving Offices of, or acting for, Brazil, Israel, Mexico, and Trinidad and Tobago. The United States is also a competent ISA for applications filed in the International Bureau where at least one of the applicants is a resident or national of the United States or a resident or national of Barbados. In addition, the United States acts as an International Preliminary Examining Authority for certain applications searched in the EPO. The language change regarding the time limit for compliance and statement accompanying the submission are necessary to conform with the language found in PCT Rule 13ter.1.

Section 1.822 is proposed to be revised for clarity and better organization and to accommodate an international request for the use of lower case one-letter codes for nucleotide bases.

Section 1.822 (b) is proposed to be amended to refer to WIPO Standard ST.23 (April 1994) and incorporate the information therein. The reorganization groups all nucleotide and all amino acid formats together.

Section 1.822 (c)(1) is proposed to be amended by requiring the use of lower case one-letter code for the nucleotide bases. This change would put the PTO requirements in conformance with most large databases. Additionally, the use of lower case letters in a sequence makes the confusion of "g" for "c" and vice versa less likely.

Current paragraph (d) is proposed to be redesignated as a part of paragraph (c)(3) and current paragraph (e) is proposed to be deleted with the substance of the paragraph being incorporated into (d)(1). Current paragraph (f) is proposed to be redesignated as paragraph (c)(2); current paragraph (g) is proposed to be redesignated as paragraph (c)(3) and amended to incorporate current paragraph (d). Current paragraph (h) is proposed to be redesignated as paragraph (d)(2). Current paragraphs (i) and (j) are proposed to be redesignated as (c)(4) and (c)(5). Current paragraph (k) is proposed to be redesignated as (d)(3). Current paragraph (l) is proposed to be redesignated as (c)(6) and current paragraph (m) is proposed to be redesignated as (d)(4). Current paragraph (n) is proposed to be redesignated as (c)(7) and amended to delete a sentence, the substance of which is incorporated into (d)(4).

Paragraph (d)(1) is proposed to be added to include a reference to WIPO Standard ST.23 (April 1994). Paragraphs (d)(2-4) incorporate the material from current paragraphs (h), (k), (m) and a sentence of (n). Paragraph (d)(5) is proposed to be added to clarify that the use of terminator symbols is not acceptable in amino acid sequences either as "internal" terminator symbols or following the carboxy terminal amino acid of a peptide or polypeptide.

Current paragraph (o) is proposed to be redesignated as paragraph (e) and amended to recite integer identifier to be consistent with § 1.821 (c) and to permit the language neutral submission.

Current paragraph (p) is proposed to be deleted.

The lists of nucleic acid and amino acid abbreviations and the lists of modified base controlled vocabulary and the modified and unusual amino acids would be replaced by reference to WIPO Standard ST.23 RECOMMENDATION FOR THE PRESENTATION OF NUCLEOTIDE AND AMINO ACID SEQUENCE LISTINGS IN PATENT APPLICATIONS AND IN PUBLISHED PATENT DOCUMENTS (April 1994) to simplify and shorten the rules. This information will also appear in an appropriate section of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure to assist applicants in preparing Sequence Listings. For purposes of facilitating review of these proposed rule changes, appropriate corrected excerpts of paragraphs 8, 9, 11 and 12 of WIPO Standard ST.23 are provided below.

Section 1.823(a) is proposed to be amended to provide for a reference to a Sequence Listing Annex in the application immediately before the claims and to provide the paper Sequence Listing as an Annex, which is a separately numbered section of the application. This is an internationally desired change and also would facilitate easier storage of very large Sequence Listings separate from the main part of the file during pendency of the application.

Section 1.823(b) is proposed to be amended to insert a table to depict items of information (data elements) which are to be included in the Sequence Listing and to indicate whether they are mandatory or optional. The proposed revisions reflect the change to a language neutral submission. The English language data elements headings would be replaced by numeric identifiers. The numeric identifiers are similar to INID codes ("Internationally agreed Numbers for the Identification of Data" as per WIPO Standard ST.9, December 1990) already utilized internationally in patent documents. This change would facilitate a single international standard which would eliminate the need for translations into non-English languages. Large portions of Section 1.823(b) are proposed to be deleted to lessen the burden on applicants and to eliminate collections of material which is of limited use to the Office. The following items are typical of material which would be deleted:

(1)(vi)(C) CLASSIFICATION;
(2)(i)(C) STRANDEDNESS;
(2)(ii) MOLECULE TYPE through (2)(vii)(C) UNITS; and
(2)(ix)(C) IDENTIFICATION METHOD.

In order to clarify the rule, the proposed change would identify specifically those items which can be enumerated once in a Sequence Listing.

It is proposed that the recommended designation be eliminated, leaving only mandatory and optional elements. Accordingly, it is proposed to change element ◀140▶ Correspondence Address and elements ◀150▶ through ◀154▶ from mandatory to optional. Elements ◀100▶ General Information, ◀200▶ Information for SEQ ID NO, and ◀400▶ Sequence Description: SEQ ID NO have been clarified as mandatory. In element ◀193▶, it is proposed to change TELEX to Electronic mail address to be current with technology.

It is proposed to eliminate Strandedness because the information is of limited use to the Office. It is proposed to limit the response for Topology to linear or circular because any other response does not permit an adequate search. Because it is essential to the search to know whether the sequence is circular, providing one of these two responses to this data element is mandatory in the Sequence Listing. Consistent with the international desire for eliminating language in the Sequence Listing, Topology would be identified as L (linear) or C (circular), and sequence Type would be N (nucleotide) or A (amino acid).

It is proposed to change Feature from a recommended to a mandatory element if the sequence contains "N", "Xaa", a modified or unusual L-amino acid or a modified base. This change would highlight the presence of an unusual residue in the sequence which is important to anyone using Sequence Listing information.

Section 1.824 is proposed to be amended by revising the current paragraphs (a) through (h) into paragraphs (a) through (c).

Specifically, the following changes are proposed for § 1.824:

Current § 1.824, paragraph (a), is proposed to be redesignated as paragraph (a)(1). In addition, the term "series of diskettes" would be added to indicate the acceptability of receiving numerous disks for large submissions. Current paragraph (b) is proposed to be redesignated as paragraph (a)(2). Current paragraph (c) is proposed to be redesignated as paragraph (a)(3). Current paragraph (d) is proposed to be deleted because it is incorporated into paragraph (a)(1). Current paragraph (e) is proposed to be deleted since the PTO has not found it to be necessary and feels it should not be a requirement placed on the applicant, although the applicant may optionally continue the practice of using write-protection if desired. In proposed paragraph (a)(4), a "compressed file" format would be introduced as an acceptable means to submit a large sequence listing, and in proposed paragraph (a)(5), directions on suppressing page numbering on the computer readable form version would be added for clarity.

The text of current paragraph (f) is proposed to be deleted, but the list of computer readable files is proposed to be redesignated as paragraphs under new (b) and (c). In proposed paragraph (b), the explanation for "pagination" is proposed to be revised to reflect the correct format required. Proposed paragraph (b)(1) is proposed to be revised by deleting diskettes from PS/2 operating system as an accepted format. In proposed paragraph (c), the diskette requirements are proposed to be rearranged so that the most common diskette size used for submissions is at the top of the list. Also in proposed paragraph (c)(2), "format" is proposed to be amended to accommodate the current PTO equipment, and in proposed new paragraphs (c)(3), (4), and (5), additional items would be added to the list of acceptable media types due to the changes in available equipment at the PTO.

Current paragraph (g) is proposed to be redesignated as paragraph (d).

Current paragraph (h) is proposed to be deleted because the text is proposed to be incorporated into paragraph (a)(6). The label requirements would be rewritten more concisely than with the previous rules. In addition, fewer items would be required to be placed on the label under this proposed paragraph because the other items are no longer deemed necessary by the PTO.

Current Appendix A is proposed to be rewritten to reflect the correct format of a Sequence Listing. The proposed Appendix A is presented to provide a sample listing in the correct format as described in the Table of amended § 1.823(b). This sample includes the use of numeric identifiers which reflect the change to a language neutral submission. Current Appendix B is proposed to be deleted as the information it presents is no longer valid under changes in this proposed rule.

Review Under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995

This proposed rule change contains information collection requirements which are subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, 44 U.S.C. 3501, et seq. The title, description and respondent description of the information collection is shown below with an estimate of the annual reporting burdens. Included in the estimate is the time for reviewing instructions, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information.

With respect to the following collection of information, the PTO invites comments on: (1) whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the PTO's functions, including whether the information will have practical utility; (2) the accuracy of the PTO's estimate of the burden of the proposed collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used; (3) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (4) ways to minimize the burden of the collection of information on respondents, including through the use of automated collection techniques, when appropriate, and other forms of information technology.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no person is required to respond to nor shall a person be subject to a penalty for failure to comply with a collection of information subject to the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act unless that collection of information displays a currently valid OMB control number.

OMB Number: 0651-0024
Title: Requirements for Patent Applications Containing Nucleotide Sequence and/or Amino Acid Sequence Disclosures
Form Numbers: None
Type of Review: Revision of currently approved collection
Affected Public: Individuals or households, business or other for-profit institutions, not-for-profit institutions, and Federal Government
Estimated Number of Respondents: 4,600
Estimated Time Per Response: 80 minutes
Estimated Total Annual Burden Hours: 6,133

Needs and Uses: The PTO requires biotechnology patent applicants to submit sequence information to enable the PTO to properly examine and process their applications.

As required by the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, 44 U.S.C. 3507(d), the PTO has submitted a copy of this proposed rulemaking to OMB for its review of this information collection. Interested persons are requested to send comments regarding these information collections, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs of OMB, New Executive Office Bldg., 725 17th Street, N.W., Room 10235, Washington, D.C. 20503, Attn: Desk Officer for the Patent and Trademark Office.

OMB is required to make a decision concerning the collection of information in these proposed regulations between 30 and 60 days after the publication of this document in the Federal Register. Therefore, a comment to OMB is best assured of having its full effect if OMB receives it within 30 days of publication. This does not affect the deadline for the public to comment to the PTO on the proposed regulations.

Other Considerations

This proposed rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), Executive Order 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. It has been determined that this proposed rule is not significant for the purposes of Executive Order 12866.

The Assistant General Counsel for Legislation and Regulation of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that this proposed rule change would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). The principal effect of this rule change is to simplify and clarify the rules governing the submission of Sequence Listings for patent applications containing nucleic acid and/or amino acid sequences.

The PTO has also determined that this proposed rule change has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

3. Section 1.821 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (c)-(h) to read as follows:

§ 1.821 Nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosures in patent applications.

(a) Nucleotide and/or amino acid sequences as used in §§ 1.821 through 1.825 are interpreted to mean an unbranched sequence of four or more amino acids or an unbranched sequence of ten or more nucleotides. Branched sequences are specifically excluded from this definition. ►Sequences with fewer than four specifically defined nucleotides or amino acids are specifically excluded from this rule. "Specifically defined" means those amino acids other than "Xaa" and those nucleotide bases other than "N" defined in accordance with the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) Handbook on Industrial Property Information and Documentation, Stand◄rd ST.23: Recommendation for the Presentation of Nucleotide and Amino Acid Sequence Listings in Patent Applications and in Published Patent Documents, paragraphs 8 through 12, April 1994, herein incorporated by reference. (Hereinafter "WIPO Standard ST.23 (April, 1994)"). This incorporation by reference was approved by the Director of the Federal Register in accordance with 5 U.S.C. 552(a) and 1 CFR part 51. Copies of ST.23 may be obtained from the World Intellectual Property Organization; 34 chemin des Colombettes; 1211 Geneva 20 Switzerland. Copies of ST.23 may be inspected at the Patent Search Room; Crystal Plaza 3, Lobby Level; 2021 South Clark Place; Arlington, VA 22202; or at the Office of the Federal Register, 800 North Capitol Street, NW, Suite 700, Washington, D.C. ◄ Nucleotides and amino acids are further defined as follows:

(1) Nucleotides are intended to embrace only those nucleotides that can be represented using the symbols set forth in [§ 1.822(b)(1)] ►WIPO Standard ST.23 (April 1994), paragraph 8◄. Modifications, e.g., methylated bases, may be described as set forth in [§ 1.822(b)] ►WIPO Standard ST.23 (April 1994), paragraph 9◄ , but shall not be shown explicitly in the nucleotide sequence.

(2) Amino acids are those L-amino acids commonly found in naturally occurring proteins and are listed in [§ 1.822(b)(2)] ►WIPO Standard ST.23 (April 1994), paragraph 11◄. Those amino acid sequences containing D-amino acids are not intended to be embraced by this definition. Any amino acid sequence that contains post-translationally modified amino acids may be described as the amino acid sequence that is initially translated using the symbols shown in [§ 1.822(b)(2)] ►WIPO Standard ST.23 (April 1994), paragraph 11◄ with the modified positions; e.g., hydroxylations or glycosylations, being described as set forth in [§ 1.822(b)] ►WIPO Standard ST.23 (April 1994), paragraph 12◄, but these modifications shall not be shown explicitly in the amino acid sequence. Any peptide or protein that can be expressed as a sequence using the symbols in [§ 1.822(b)(2)] ►WIPO Standard ST.23 (April 1994), paragraph 11◄ in conjunction with a description [elsewhere in the "Sequence Listing"] ►in the Feature section◄ to describe, for example, modified linkages, cross links and end caps, non-peptidyl bonds, etc., is embraced by this definition.

(c) Patent applications which contain disclosures of nucleotide and/or amino acid sequences must contain, as a separate part of the disclosure on paper copy, hereinafter referred to as the "Sequence Listing," a disclosure of the nucleotide and/or amino acid sequences and associated information using the symbols and format in accordance with the requirements of §§ 1.822 and 1.823. Each sequence disclosed must appear separately in the "Sequence Listing." Each sequence set forth in the "Sequence Listing" shall be assigned a separate ►integer◄ identifier [written as SEQ ID NO:1, SEQ ID NO:2, SEQ ID NO:3, etc]. ►The integer identifiers shall begin with 1 and increase sequentially by integers. If no sequence is present for an integer identifier, the words "This sequence omitted" shall appear following the integer identifier.◄

(d) Where the description or claims of a patent application discuss a sequence listing that is set forth in the "Sequence Listing" in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section, reference must be made to the sequence by use of the [assigned] ►integer◄ identifier, ►preceded by "SEQ ID NO:"◄ in the text of the description or claims, even if the sequence is also embedded in the text of the description or claims of the patent application.

(e) A copy of the "Sequence Listing" referred to in paragraph (c) of this section must also be submitted in computer readable form in accordance with the requirements of § 1.824. The computer readable form is a copy of the "Sequence Listing" and will not necessarily be retained as a part of the patent application file. If the computer readable form of a new application is to be identical with the computer readable form of another application of the applicant on file in the Office, reference may be made to the other application and computer readable form in lieu of filing a duplicate computer readable form in the new application ►if the computer readable form in the other application was compliant with all of the requirements of these rules◄. The new application shall be accompanied by a letter making such reference to the other application and computer readable form, both of which shall be completely identified. ►In the new application, applicant must also request the use of the compliant computer readable "Sequence Listing" that is already on file for the other application and must state that the paper copy of the "Sequence Listing" in the new application is identical to the computer readable copy filed for the other application.◄

(f) In addition to the paper copy required by paragraph (c) of this section and the computer readable form required by paragraph (e) of this section, a statement that the content of the paper and computer readable copies are the same must be submitted with the computer readable form. Such a statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Office.

(g) If any of the requirements of paragraphs (b) through (f) of this section are not satisfied at the time of filing under 35 U.S.C. 111 ►(a)◄or at the time of entering the national stage under 35 U.S.C. 371, applicant has one month from the date of a notice which will be sent requiring compliance with the requirements in order to prevent abandonment of the application. Any submission in response to a requirement under this paragraph must be accompanied by a statement that the submission includes no new matter. Such a statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Office.

(h) If any of the requirements of paragraphs (b) through (f) of this section are not satisfied at the time of filing [,in the United States Receiving Office,] an international application under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) [applicant has one month from the date of a notice which] ►, which application is to be searched by the United States International Searching Authority or examined by the United States International Preliminary Examining Authority, applicant◄ will be sent ►a notice◄ requiring compliance with the requirements [,or such other time as may be set by the Commissioner, in which to comply] ►within a prescribed time period◄. Any submission in response to a requirement under this paragraph must be accompanied by a statement that the submission does not include [new] matter [or go] ►which goes◄ beyond the disclosure in the international application as filed. Such a statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Office. If applicant fails to timely provide the required computer readable form, the United States International Searching Authority shall search only to the extent that a meaningful search can be performed ►and the United States International Preliminary Examining Authority shall examine only to the extent that a meaningful examination can be performed◄.

Copies of ST.23 may be inspected at the Patent Search Room; Crystal Plaza 3, Lobby Level; 2021 South Clark Place; Arlington, VA 22202; or at the Office of the Federal Register, 800 North Capitol Street, NW, Suite 700, Washington, DC ◄. No code other than that specified in [this section] ►these sections◄ shall be used in nucleotide and amino acid sequences. A modified base or ►modified or unusual◄ amino acid may be presented in a given sequence as the corresponding unmodified base or amino acid if the modified base or ►modified or unusual◄ amino acid is one of those listed in [paragraphs (p)(1) or (p)(2) of this section] ►WIPO Standard ST.23 (April 1994), paragraphs 9 and 12◄ and the modification is also set forth [elsewhere in the Sequence Listing (for example, FEATURES § 1.823(b)(2)(ix))] ►in the Feature section◄. Otherwise, all bases or amino acids not appearing in paragraphs [(b)(1) or (b)(2) of this section] ►8 and 11 of the WIPO Standard ST.23 (April 1994)◄ shall be listed in a given sequence as "N" or "Xaa," respectively, with further information, as appropriate, given [elsewhere in the Sequence Listing] ►in the Feature section◄.

RIN 0651-XX01

Extension of the Payor Number Practice (through "Customer Numbers") to Matters Involving Pending Patent Applications

AGENCY: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.

ACTION: Notice of Change in Procedure.

SUMMARY: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is extending the Payor Number practice to matters involving pending patent applications. Payor Numbers are currently used to establish a "fee address" for receipt of maintenance fee correspondence. Through the use of "Customer Numbers," the PTO will extend the Payor Number practice to matters involving patent applications. Under this Customer Number practice, an applicant (or patentee) will be able to use a Customer Number to: (1) designate the address associated with the Customer Number as the correspondence address for an application (or patent); (2) designate the address associated with the Customer Number as the fee address (37 CFR 1.363) for a patent; and (3) submit a power of attorney in the application (or patent) to the registered practitioners associated with the Customer Number. The change of either the address or practitioners having a power of attorney in multiple patent applications through a single paper directed to the Customer Number should result in savings to the attorney, agent, or law firm, as well as the PTO.

EFFECTIVE DATE: November 1, 1996. Any request to change the correspondence address of a pending application to the address associated with a currently assigned Payor Number filed before November 1, 1996 will not be effective until November 1, 1996.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Robert W. Bahr by telephone at (703) 305-9285 or by facsimile at (703) 308-6916, or by mail addressed to Box Comments-Patents, Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Washington, D.C. 20231.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION

Payor Numbers are currently used to establish a "fee address" for receipt of maintenance fee correspondence. Such Payor Numbers permit, inter alia, an attorney, agent or law firm to file a single change of address paper for the Payor Number, and this change of address is effective for every patent designating the address associated with the Payor Number as the correspondence address for the patent. This Payor Number practice avoids the filing of a separate change of address paper for every patent affected by the change of address.

In a Notice entitled "Extension of the Use of Payor Numbers to Matters Involving Pending Patent Applications" (Payor Number Notice), published in the Federal Register at 60 FR 26026-28 (May 16, 1995), and in the PTO Official Gazette at 1175 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 14-15 (June 6, 1995), the PTO proposed to extend the current Payor Number practice to matters involving pending patent applications. In view of the comments received in response to the Payor Number Notice, the PTO is adopting the following "Customer Number" practice.

Currently assigned "Payor Numbers" will be redesignated as "Customer Numbers" to avoid requiring persons or organizations currently assigned a Payor Number to request a "new" Customer Number. Thus, persons or organizations currently assigned a "Payor Number" should not request a new "Customer Number." Persons or organizations not currently assigned a Payor Number can request assignment of "new" Customer Numbers.

The PTO has created a box designation for correspondence related to a Customer Number ("Box CN"), and all correspondence related to a Customer Number (e.g., requests for a Customer Number) should be addressed to this box designation.

The PTO will provide standard forms to: (1) request a Customer Number (PTO/SB/125); (2) request a change in the data (address or list of practitioners) associated with an existing Customer Number (PTO/SB/124); (3) change the correspondence address of an individual application (PTO/SB/122) or patent (PTO/SB/123) to the address associated with a Customer Number; or (4) change the correspondence address of a list of applications or patents to the address associated with a Customer Number (PTO/SB/121). The PTO is also modifying its current standard forms (e.g., the declaration form) to permit: (1) the designation of the address associated with the Customer Number as the correspondence address for an application; (2) designation of the address associated with the Customer Number as the fee address for a patent; and (3) the submission of a power of attorney in the application to the practitioners associated with the Customer Number. The forms provided by the Office may be obtained by contacting the Customer Service Center of the Office of Initial Patent Examination at (703) 308-1214. Also, many standard forms have been loaded on the PTO's Internet Website and may be electronically copied via the Internet through anonymous file transfer protocol (ftp) (address: ftp.uspto.gov). While use the standardized forms provided by the PTO is encouraged, it is not mandatory.

This notice of change in procedure contains a collection of information subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. This collection of information is currently approved by the Office of Management and Budget under Control No. 0651-0035. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden to the Office of System Quality and Enhancement, Data Administration Division, Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231, and to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, Washington, DC 20503 (ATTN: Paperwork Reduction Act Project 0651-0035).

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no person is required to respond to nor shall any person be subject to a penalty for failure to comply with a collection of information subject to the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act unless that collection of information displays a currently valid OMB control number.

The PTO will also accept requests submitted electronically via a computer-readable diskette to: (1) change the correspondence address of a list of applications or patents or the fee address for a list of patents to the address associated with a Customer Number; and (2) submit a power of attorney in a list of applications or patents to the registered practitioners associated with the Customer Number. Persons electronically submitting such a request must submit an IBM-compatible diskette containing a Microsoft Excel spreadsheet, or a comma separated text file which can be imported into Microsoft Excel spreadsheet, formatted as follows: (1) row 1, column B containing the six-digit Customer Number; (2) row 2 being blank; (3) rows 3 through 9 containing the address associated with the Customer Number; (4) rows 10 through 15 being blank; and (5) row 16 starting with the list of patents or applications with column A containing the patent number (if appropriate), column B containing the application number, column C containing the patent date (if appropriate), column D containing the application filing date, column E indicating "YES" or "NO" to designate assignment of the address associated with the Customer Number as the correspondence address of the application or patent, column F indicating "YES" or "NO" to designate assignment of the registered practitioners associated with the Customer Number as the list of persons having a power of attorney in the applications or patents, and column G indicating "YES" or "NO" to designate assignment of the address associated with the Customer Number as the fee address of the patent.

The patent number (if appropriate), application number, patent date (if appropriate), and application filing date are being required as redundant identifiers to avoid changing the correspondence or fee address or entering a power of attorney in the wrong patent or application due to a typographical error in the patent or application number. The PTO will enter a change in correspondence or fee address or power of attorney in a listed application or patent only if the following identifiers are provided: (1) the patent number and the corresponding application number; (2) the patent number and the corresponding patent date; (3) the application number and the corresponding filing date; (4) the patent number and the corresponding application filing date; and (5) the application number and the corresponding patent date.

A sample spreadsheet is included as an Appendix A to this notice of change in procedure. The phrase "Customer Number" in row 1, column A, and "Requester (Attorney/Firm) Information" in row 3, as well as the information provided in rows 10 through 15, are provided on the sample spreadsheet for explanatory purposes only, and should not be included on any spreadsheet submitted to the PTO.

The diskette must be accompanied by a paper copy of the spreadsheet and a cover letter requesting entry of the changes contained on the spreadsheet into PTO records for the listed applications or patents. In addition, for any application or patent listed on such spreadsheet, the cover letter must be signed by the applicant or patentee, assignee in compliance with 37 CFR 3.73(b), or registered practitioner of record in the patent or application. The PTO will issue a written confirmation of the list of applications or patents indicating the change(s) entered into PTO records.

Through the use of "Customer Numbers," the PTO is extending the "fee address" practice to matters involving pending patent applications to permit: (1) the designation of the correspondence address of a patent application by a Customer Number such that the correspondence address for the patent application would be the address associated with the Customer Number; (2) the designation of the fee address of a patent by a Customer Number such that the fee address for the patent would be the address associated with the Customer Number; and (3) the submission of a list of practitioners by a Customer Number such that an applicant may in a Power of Attorney appoint those practitioners associated with the Customer Number. While this notice discusses this new Customer Number practice as it regards patent applications and applicants, it will apply equally to patents and patentees.

The [illegible] application of a specific Customer Number as the

The designation in a patent application of a specific Customer Number as the correspondence address for such application will permit an attorney, agent or law firm to file a single paper containing a change of address, rather than a separate paper in each application, and this change of address paper will be applicable to all applications designating the Customer Number as the correspondence address for such application. The designation of a Customer Number as the correspondence address for a patent application is optional, in that any application not designating a Customer Number as the correspondence address will not be affected by a change of address filed for a Customer Number, even if the correspondence address provided for such application is that of an attorney, agent, or law firm associated with a Customer Number. The change of address in multiple patent applications through a single paper directed to the Customer Number, rather than through individual letters directed to each application, will result in savings to the attorney, agent or law firm, as well as the PTO.

This new Customer Number practice will not affect the current practice of permitting a patentee to provide a "fee address" for the receipt of maintenance fee correspondence. A patentee will be able to designate a "fee address" for the receipt of maintenance fee correspondence, and a different address for the receipt of all other correspondence. The designation of a "fee address" by reference to a Customer Number will not affect or be affected by the designation of a correspondence address by reference to another Customer Number, in that the PTO will send maintenance fee correspondence to the address associated with the Customer Number designated as the "fee address" and will send all other correspondence to the address associated with the Customer Number designated as the correspondence address.

The association of a list of practitioners with a Customer Number will permit an applicant to appoint all of the practitioners associated with the Customer Number merely by reference to the Customer Number in the Power of Attorney (i.e., without individually listing the practitioners in the Power of Attorney). The addition and/or deletion of a practitioner from the list of practitioners associated with a Customer Number will result in the addition or deletion of such practitioner from the list of persons authorized to represent any applicant who appointed all of the practitioners associated with such Customer Number. This will avoid the necessity for the filing of additional papers in each patent application affected by a change in the practitioners of the law firm prosecuting the application. The appointment of practitioners associated with a Customer Number will be optional, in that any applicant may continue to individually name those practitioners to represent the applicant in a patent application.

Currently, the PTO must individually enter into the Patent Application Location and Monitoring (PALM) system the registration number for each practitioner appointed to represent the applicant in a patent application. The change of persons authorized to represent applicants in multiple patent applications through a single paper directing the PTO to change its records concerning the Customer Number will require only a single entry into the PALM system, where the change of persons authorized to represent applicants in multiple patent applications through individual letters directed to each application require a separate entry into the PALM system for each affected application. Thus, the use of Customer Numbers in a Power of Attorney will significantly reduce the amount of data which must be entered into the PALM system, and would thus result in savings to the PTO. In addition, permitting a change of persons authorized to represent applicants in multiple patent applications through a single paper directing the PTO to change its records concerning the Customer Number would result in similar savings to the attorney, agent, or law firm.

As the PTO will not recognize more than one correspondence address (37 CFR 1.34(c)), any inconsistencies between the correspondence address resulting from a Customer Number being provided in an application for the correspondence address and any other correspondence address provided in that application would be resolved in favor of the address of the Customer Number. Where an applicant appoints all of the practitioners associated with a Customer Number as well as a list of individually named practitioners, such action would be treated as only an appointment of all of the practitioners associated with a Customer Number due to the potential for confusion and data entry errors in entering registration numbers from plural sources.

The following are examples of language effective to provide as the correspondence address the address of, and appoint those practitioners associated with, a Customer Number:

1. The following language would be effective to appoint those practitioners individually listed, and provide as the correspondence address the address of Customer Number 99,999:

> I hereby appoint the following practitioners to prosecute this application and to transact all business in the Patent and Trademark Office connected therewith:
> John Doe, Registration No. 99,991, Jane Doe, Registration No. 99,992 and Richard Doe, Registration No. 99,993.
> Address all correspondence to: Customer Number 99,999.

2. The following language would be effective to appoint those practitioners associated with, and provide as the correspondence address the address of, Customer Number 99,999:

> I hereby appoint the practitioners associated with the Customer Number provided below to prosecute this application and to transact all business in the Patent and Trademark Office connected therewith, and direct that all correspondence be addressed to that Customer Number:
> Customer Number 99,999.

Response to Comments

Eleven comments were received in response to the Payor Number Notice. The written comments have been analyzed, and responses to the comments follow.

Comment (1): Ten comments supported the proposed extension of use of the Payor Number practice to matters involving pending patent applications.

Response: In view of the positive response to this proposed extension of use of the Payor Number practice to matters involving pending patent applications, the PTO is extending the Payor Number practice to matters involving pending patent applications.

Comment (2): One comment opposed combining the maintenance fee Payor Number with the practitioner responsible for the application or patent. The comment argued that, in many instances, a client instructs a practitioner that a particular service organization is responsible for the payment of maintenance fees, and, while the practitioner continues as counsel of record and receives correspondence unrelated to maintenance fees (e.g., reexamination or interference notices), the client advises that the practitioner is no longer responsible for payment of the maintenance fees or even reminding the client of the due date for paying such fees.

Response: As discussed supra, the implemented "Customer Number" practice will not affect the current practice of providing a "fee address" for correspondence relating to the payment of maintenance fees. While the current "Payor Numbers" will be redesignated as "Customer Numbers," a patentee will be permitted to specify a "fee address" by reference to one Customer Number (e.g., the Customer or Payor Number of a maintenance fee service organization) and a correspondence address by reference to another Customer Number (e.g., the Customer Number of the attorney or agent of record). Designating a "fee address" for maintenance fee payment purposes, by Customer Number or otherwise, will not affect the correspondence address for correspondence unrelated to maintenance fees, regardless of whether the correspondence address is also specified by a Customer Number. Likewise, providing a "fee address" for maintenance fee payment purposes, by Customer Number or otherwise, will not affect any previous appointments of practitioners.

Comment (3): One comment cautioned that sufficient safeguards be built into the system to avoid errors. Specifically, the comment cautioned that: (1) a data entry error in the Customer Number in one application (a key field error) would result in correspondence for that application being sent to an entirely different address; (2) a single error in the look-up data base would result in correspondence for every application designating a particular Customer Number being sent to an entirely different address; and (3) an indexing or programming error affecting the entire look-up data base could result in correspondence for every application designating any Customer Number being sent to an entirely different address.

Response: Currently, the application number is entered into the PALM data base to look-up the actual address (i.e., the application number is a key field). Thus, the risk of error in the improper entry of a Customer Number is no greater than the current risk of error in the improper entry of an application number. Nevertheless, the PTO endeavors to reduce such errors by requiring that employees check the returned application data.

To avoid errors in information associated with a Customer Number, the PTO will double enter the Customer Number anytime there is a change to the information associated with the Customer Number. In addition, the PTO is in the process of developing Customer Number bar code labels for use on incoming requests for changes to the information associated with a Customer Number to permit scanning and reduce data entry errors.

In any event, errors in the look-up data base would result in correspondence for every application designating a particular Customer Number being sent to an entirely different address, and indexing or programming errors affecting the entire look-up data base could result in correspondence for every application designating any Customer Number being sent to an entirely different address. These errors would result in mismailings of such magnitude that it would be readily apparent to the attorney, agent or law firm of the Customer Number, if not the PTO, that an error has occurred.

Comment (4): Three comments suggested that registration numbers be used as Customer Numbers.

Response: The suggestion has not been adopted. The PTO currently has a data base of addresses (i.e., fee addresses) associated with the current Payor Numbers that will be redesignated as "Customer Numbers." To avoid an adverse impact on the current fee address practice, the Customer Number practice is being implemented using the existing fee address data base. Thus, the PTO cannot use registration numbers as Customer Numbers since newly assigned Customer Numbers must be compatible with the existing Payor Numbers.

Comment (5): One comment suggested that a Power of Attorney be permitted to include the practitioners associated with a Customer Number and no more than one additional practitioner. The comment argued that clients will desire to name a responsible person in the Power of Attorney, and that this would also be helpful in the event that a practitioner withdraws from a law firm and the client continues with that practitioner. The comment cautioned that if this is not permitted, each practitioner will establish his or her own Customer Number, resulting in the appointment of a large number of Customer Numbers.

Response: The comment is adopted only to the extent indicated. To accommodate the desire of a client to see the responsible person mentioned by name in the Power of Attorney, a Power of Attorney appointing the practitioners associated with a specific Customer Number may also specifically mention any of the practitioners associated with such Customer Number. This mention may designate the responsible practitioner(s) as the principal attorney(s) or agent(s) in the application. In a Power of Attorney appointing those practitioners associated with a Customer Number, the specific mentioning of practitioner(s) will be ineffective to appoint a practitioner not associated with the Customer Number.

As discussed supra, the entry of a single Customer Number, rather than the individual registration number of each practitioner, into the PALM system is a primary benefit of permitting the appointment of a list of practitioners by Customer Number. As the individually listed practitioner is ostensibly among those practitioners associated with the Customer Number provided in the Power of Attorney, requiring the PTO to enter the individual registration numbers of a list of practitioners associated with a Customer Number, as well as the Customer Number, would frustrate this benefit. Thus, the PTO will treat such an appointment as an appointment of only those practitioners associated with the Customer Number.

Customer Numbers are designed to serve the dual purpose of providing a correspondence address, and providing the list of practitioners appointed with a power of attorney. Due to the prohibition against dual correspondence (37 CFR 1.33(a)), an applicant will be permitted to provide only a single number at a time as the Customer Number, and thus correspondence address, for the application. In an instance in which an applicant provides more than one Customer Number, the last provided Customer Number is controlling. Thus, the appointment of a plurality (much less a large number) of Customer Numbers will result in the PTO recognizing only the last mentioned Customer Number. Applicants are strongly cautioned not to attempt to appoint more than one Customer Number in a single communication, as such action will not have a cumulative effect.

Comment (6): Three comments suggested that in this new context, the term "Payor Number" could cause confusion, and would be demeaning to applicants and their representatives.

Response: In view of these comments, the term "Customer Number" has been used to describe the number having an address or a list of practitioners associated with such number. The term "Payor Number" was used in the Payor Number Notice as this term had a specific meaning with regard to the "fee address" for maintenance fee correspondence, and thus served to provide a frame of reference for the extension of such practice.

Comment (7): One comment suggested that the form of appointment refer to registered practitioners, rather than attorneys and agents.

Response: The PTO does not require any specific form of appointment (i.e., the forms of appointment in the Payor Number Notice were merely exemplary). Nevertheless, the phrase "practitioner" is defined in 37 CFR 10.1(r), and "registered practitioners" is considered preferable to "attorneys or agents" or "attorneys and agents." As such, the PTO will change its standardized forms of appointment to refer to "registered practitioners."

Comment (8): One comment questioned the form and effect of an appointment of all practitioners associated with a Customer Number. The comment specifically questioned whether the practitioner would have to obtain a new power of attorney in a situation in which: (1) a practitioner is associated with the Customer Number of a law firm, and is thus appointed in every application appointing the practitioners associated with that Customer Number; (2) the practitioner subsequently leaves the law firm; and (3) an applicant in an application appointing the practitioners associated with the law firm's Customer Number continues with the practitioner leaving the law firm.

Response: The practitioner should obtain a new power of attorney to continue to have a power of attorney in the application. An appointment in an application of the practitioners associated with a particular Customer Number is the appointment of each of the practitioners associated with that Customer Number at the time any practitioner associated with such Customer Number seek to act for the applicant. With such an appointment, a practitioner is of record until removed from the Customer Number (i.e., until the practitioner is no longer associated with the Customer Number). As the practitioner's former law firm should promptly remove such practitioner from the list of practitioners associated with the law firm's Customer Number, a new power of attorney will be necessary for the practitioner to continue to have a power of attorney in the application.

In an instance in which a particular practitioner in a law firm has a significant number of clients who are clients of the practitioner rather than the law firm (i.e., clients who would prefer to be represented by the practitioner, rather than the law firm, in the event that the practitioner left the law firm), such practitioner should consider establishing a Customer Number separate from the law firm's Customer Number. This would permit the clients of the practitioner to appoint a power of attorney to the practitioners associated with the practitioner's, rather than the law firm's, Customer Number. The practitioner can list any or all of the practitioners in the law firm as practitioners associated with the Customer Number, and can change the practitioners associated with the Customer Number in the event that the practitioner left the law firm. This would avoid the necessity for a new power of attorney in the event that the practitioner leaves the law firm.

Comment (9): One comment suggested that the proposed practice be extended to trademark applications.

Response: The suggestion has been forwarded to the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks for consideration.

Comment (10): One comment suggested that procedures be adopted such that this number could be utilized informally to identify the source of documents such as drawings, certified copies, etc., by including this number on the back of the document.

Response: There is no prohibition against using a Customer Number on the back of a document to informally identify the source of the document. That is, while 37 CFR 1.52(b) and 1.84(e) provide that the application papers contain writing or drawings only on one side of a sheet, these provisions are directed to the writing and drawings forming the application papers. Thus, the inclusion of identifying information on the back of a sheet simply results in that information not being considered part of the application papers. However, the inclusion of a Customer Number to informally identify the source of a document is not a substitute for the inclusion on the document of the application number to which the document is directed. In addition, a telephone number should also be provided on such document, as the Customer Number will not provide the telephone number (but only the address) of the source of the document.

Comment (11): One comment suggested that the PTO update the address of all registered practitioners in the Office of Enrollment and Discipline (OED) index by a change in the Customer Number address.

Response: The suggestion has been forwarded to OED for consideration.

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents and Trademarks Available for Public Use in Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs), receive patent and trademark information in various formats from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Many PTDLs have on file all full-text patents issued since 1790, trademarks published since 1872, and select collections of foreign patents. All PTDLs have both the patent and trademark sections of the Official Gazette of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. The full-text utility and design patents are distributed numerically on 16 mm microfilm, and plant pateats on color microfiche. Patent and trademark search systems on CD-ROM (Compact Disc-Read Only) format are available at all PTDLs to increase utilization of and enhance access to the information found in patents and trademarks. It is through the CD-ROM systems that preliminary patent and trademark searches can be conducted through the numerically arranged collections.

All information is available for use by the public free of charge.

In addition, each PTDL offers reference publications which outline and provide access to the patent and trademark classification systems, as well as other documents and publications which supplement the basic search tools. PTDLs provide technical staff assistance in using all materials. Facilities for making paper copies of patent and trademark information are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent and trademark collections among the PTDLs, and their hours of service to the public vary, anyone contemplating use of these collections at a particular library is urged to contact that library in advance about its collections, services, and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

*A communication from the examiner should have been received in most applications filed prior to this date.

Patents will Expire as Follows:
(1) The term of any utility or plant patent that is in force on or results from an application filed before June 8, 1995 is the greater of the 20 year term provided in 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2) or 17 years from grant subject to any terminal disclaimers. 35 U.S.C. 154(c)(1).
(2) All utility and plant patents granted on applications having an actual United States filing date on or after June 8, 1995 are granted for a term which begins on the date on which the patent is granted and ends 20 years from the date on which the application was filed in the United States. If the application contains a specific reference to an earlier application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c), the patent term ends twenty years from that date on which the earliest application was filed. 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2).
(3) All design patents are granted for a term of 14 years from the date of the grant.
However, the term of any patent may have been curtailed by disclaimer under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 153, have lapsed due to failure to pay maintenance fees, or have been extended under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 154, 155, or 156. Thus, if more reliable information is needed with respect to a particular patent, then the specific patent file should be reviewed to determine the actual date of patent expiration.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
